

FLORIDA AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL UNIVERSITY

FAMU CoPPS, IPH Shines at ASHP 2025 Midyear: Student-Learners and Faculty Make Their Mark

Las Vegas, Nevada - The 2025 ASHP Midyear Clinical Meeting & Exhibition in Las Vegas brought together over 20,000 pharmacy professionals, student-learners, faculty and leaders for dynamic educational sessions, networking, residency and career development opportunities, and innovative clinical discussions.

According to Jocelyn D. Spates, Pharm.D., BCPS | Associate Dean of Clinical Affairs and Professor | FAMU CoPPS, IPH “The Student Poster Session featured dedicated times for student researchers to present and discuss their work with attendees, providing valuable exposure and professional feedback. Our students contributed 10 posters, showcasing their research and scholarly engagement at this premier pharmacy event. The college sponsored 24 P4 students' attendance at the meeting. Two college administrators and five faculty also attended the meeting.”

Faculty served on national panels and committees, contributing to discussions on pharmacy practice and public health, while supporting students through mentorship and professional development sessions. Administrators helped highlight the niche that is uniquely FAMU CoPPS, IPH.

“A picture’s worth a thousand words.”

Photos: Courtesy of Dr. Spates

